Hello from CARLSEN Publishers!

... and now there are three of us!
Allow us to present our new colleague: Sabine Franz. Ever since she joined us in October, Sabine has been such a hard-working member of our team that we don't know how we got along without her. Sabine has experience in publishing – for several years she edited children's books, so she's well-acquainted with the "other" side of work in a publishing house.

Apart from that, things for us have been the same as for many of you: We're getting a little tired of holding up and carrying on – surely you know the feeling. Not only that, we miss you more than ever.

So with that in mind, don't feel that you are alone. At the risk of repeating ourselves: We're happier than ever to have you as partners.

All the best,

DANIELA, SABINE & SYLVIA

A vivid, up-close look at nature

- early childhood introduction to nature and the environment
- a playful lesson on animal life in a natural meadow biotope

A meadow is an exciting place!

The mouse comes across a speckled egg and then tries to find the parents. To help him, the meadow's inhabitants show him their eggs. The mouse is surprised: each type of animal has its own unique-looking eggs. It's extraordinarily interesting and exciting!

Kids join the animals in research and discovery!

Judith Allert lives remotely with her husband and many animals on an old farm. She enjoys to think of new stories while weeding and making space for flowers in her garden.

Anne-Kathrin Behl has been an enthusiastic writer/illustrator of children's books since 2009.

... we have another book about nature right in your own neighborhood!

A profound and witty story about friendship

- sticking together, being there for each other and staying with someone through thick and thin
- inspiring children to take responsibility

AGE
3+

Two unlikely friends – Cluck the crane and the little cuckoo – set off together to find Cluck's parents and fly after them. Without the cuckoo, Cluck will never be able to do it!

Colorful, witty pictures and lots of wordplay make "Cluck and the Cuckoo" a unique treasure of a picture book.

Since the mid 1990's, Yvonne Hergane has worked as an author as well as a translator of, among other things, children's and YA books, where she can give free rein to her love of language and wordplay.

Wiebke Rauers, born 1986, worked as a character designer in an animation film studio. Since 2015 she has been a freelancer and does illustrations for books, studios and everything else featuring funny animals.

Coping with grief in the kindergarten and elementary school years

- about death written by a trained grief therapist
- dealing with the subject of death and learning how to mourn makes children strong
- grief strengthens family bonds – especially when grief is handled in a good way

Two brothers are forced to come to terms with the death of their rabbit and, shortly afterwards, the demise of a sickly, weak guinea pig. "It's So Sad" is a comforting, hopeful story for picture-book-age children about living with death. Ayse Bosse has managed to capture the feelings grieving children have and to write a book that's taken from everyday life.

© Nina Stiller

© Lucien-David Csery

Ayse Bosse works as author and actor and in addition she works with the bereaved. She has already written two books for bereaved kids, published by Carlsen and both were given much attention. She grew up in a Turkish-German family and lives with her husband and her daughter in Hamburg.

Andreas Klammt loves the sea and his atelier in the historic city center of Hamburg. Both are the perfect places to come up with good ideas and lots of sketches.

We have two more books by the same author on this subject!

Sticking together in spite of your differences – staying tolerant and open-minded in increasingly diverse societies is more important than ever! Because cohesion and the questioning of what underlies prejudice make kids strong. Our "Little Us" picture-book series is one of our most successful.

Collectively, "The Little Us" books have been reprinted 18 times; we have sold more than 180,000 copies. The story about the little green "Us" speaks to everyone, is understood and goes straight to the heart.

Because one thing is certain: experiences with friendship, quarreling and making up again, as well as finding friends, are among the most important in the lives of all children.

Daniela Kunkel, born in 1983, studied design focussing on illustration. Since then she has illustrated numerous children's books.

"Shaped into loving, child-friendly form..." (Klecks – Das Familienmagazin)

About the volume "The Little Us at School": "...gives educators a good starting point to address bullying and social exclusion." (kindercouch.de)

Timmy the bunny loves to hide things. When the kindergarten class puts the eggs they've painted outside to dry, Timmy hides them right away, of course. What fun for the kids! There's really nothing better than hiding eggs and looking for them.

Something to make the whole family grin: the (almost) true story of why bunnies hide eggs at Easter!

Ideal not only for Easter!

- an Easter book that can be read at any time: bedtime or any other time to cuddle and express feelings
- easy-to-translate rhymes – perfect even without the tabs!

Seven cute baby bunnies play and cuddle. A nice thing about the book: they all like to do so in their own way and aren't afraid to show it!

Our third interactive picture book about feelings

- fear is part of a child's everyday life experience
- being afraid is okay and should be taken seriously
- "When I Am Angry" has sold over 50,000 copies

Now it's three books on feelings

The groundhog is afraid, and when it asks the other animals what to do, it learns that they too sometimes feel afraid. They tell the groundhog how it can deal with its fears and make them go away.

"When I Am Afraid" is the third volume of this beloved interactive picture-book series and contains an afterword directed to parents. Written by a developmental psychologist, it gives parents concrete strategies for helping children overcome fear.

We're betting that every child will find their favorite story here. Seek-and-find pages alternate with classically-themed bedtime stories; detailed, full-page illustrations follow image sequences.

In this book, young readers will encounter their favorite things and discover something new about them every time.

Soccer is more than running, dribbling and shooting goals. The most important things are fair play and – maybe the most difficult thing for every good player – making up after a difference of opinion.

A book about being a team. And how good it is to make up again and become an even better team.

Without the readers, the little bear with the fuzzy belly would never get out of bed and he'd get bored playing! Good thing the little bear does exactly the kinds of things all children love and would like to be there to do.

Children take responsibility for a little bear so he can get through the day in a good mood. With very easy-to-translate rhymes.

A board book that can easily be transformed into a "normal" picture book.

Just because it's fun!

- now in an extra-big format with 13 yoga exercises in all
- already best-selling: we've reprinted the smaller previous edition a total of seven times!
- more in demand than ever: getting children to exercise and play sports

"Do Gymnastics like the Animals" is so popular that we've decided to do an expanded version in a bigger format: now everyone can see the pictures even better.

With appealing illustrations and simple language, Doris Rübel presents the exercises so that truly every-one will be able to follow the instructions and enjoy exercising.

A diverse coloring book

- a coloring book that shows differences and similarities in a completely natural, unforced way
- for all publishing houses looking for books on the subject “diversity”

Constanze von Kitzing's books have sold more than 80,000 copies in the last few years.

The success of previous books shows how much in demand these books are: by parents and educators. But the success also shows that kids like them and how much fun they have with them.

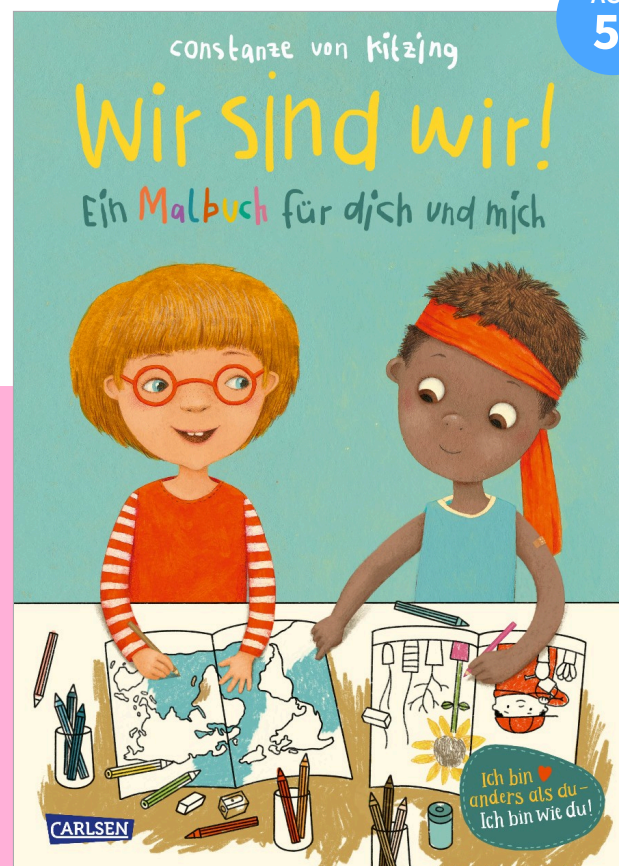

© Frederic Lezmi

Constanze von Kitzing's passion for pen and paper began with hundreds of princesses and horses. Today she prefers more funny and quirky characters in rich colours which come alive through their many details.

"Not only one's individuality, but also commonality and differences make our society more colorful and diverse! To promote this realization, books like this are needed."
(Kids Best Books)

"Illustrator Constanze von Kitzing is a pioneer when it comes to diversity in German-language children's books."

A read-aloud book about all different types of families

- 14 separate stories that emphasize diversity
- there are many different kinds of families - what they all have in common is love and caring

In this book, children learn that there are many types of families: rich families that go on vacation every year, families that speak several languages, families with disabilities, families that are loud, and many, many more! A kaleidoscope of family visits that keep readers interested and curious.

Marie Braner has created heart-warming illustrations to accompany these stories!

Judith Allert lives remotely with her husband and many animals on an old farm. She enjoys to think of new stories while weeding and making space for flowers in her garden.

To gather inspiration for new stories, Marie Braner roams through nature with her dog. Back home, she likes to put her ideas down on paper while listening to an audiobook.

Till the Pig Sings! - Best-selling first-reader fun for boys

- 65,000 copies of the Minecraft series sold so far
- for all Minecraft fans (and there are lots of them!)

In this volume, the ghosts of the underworld are after the kids. Hilariously fast-paced and absurd (to adults, not kids!) stories that turn non-readers into book-worms.

Because this series is so popular, we're continuing it: Volume 7 will appear in June 2022.

Heiko Wolz, born 1977, used to be a book seller and caregiver for people with mental handicaps. These days he manages a household with four kids, wife, dog and cat. In his spare time he writes novels and stories.

André Sedlaczek was born 1967 - on the 6th December, earlier than planned, just to be sure to be in time for Christmas. He studied Visual Communications, and works as a freelance illustrator.

Sister stories with wit and charm

- everyday stories with strong girls as protagonists
- the large format is perfect for reading aloud or reading alone
- beautiful four-color illustrations

Sisters Maya and Marietta have a lot of fun together – only sometimes they're so mad they could scream. Fortunately, they always get back together in the end.

Goofing around and laughing, getting mad, arguing and making up again: a refreshingly humorous book about two very special sisters who are just normal kids.

Since 2014, Anna Lott has been writing and developing children's stories – for TV, radio, and print as well as digital media.

Ariane Camus grew up with a donkey named Voltaire in Aquitaine. She studied French literature in Bordeaux and gave art classes in prisons. She has lived in Hamburg since 2006. She works as an illustrator for magazines and publishers. She prefers to draw for children - not only, but also for her three own.

A contemporary fairytale explores the world of animals

- educational and entertaining story about wild animals in the city
- continuation of the prize-winning first volume
- in volume 1, kids learned all about trees in their neighborhood; now it's the wild animals living right next door

Like volume 1, volume 2, in which Tomti takes a trip to the wild animals, also contains a small reference section in the back of the book; this time it's a beautiful encyclopedia of animals. Together with the first volume, this little series is perfect for publishers looking to arouse children's enthusiasm for nature.

Both "Tomti" books stand out for their magical atmosphere, but at the same time they are educational and also perfect for beginning readers.

THE SCHOOL OF MAGICAL ANIMALS ...

... is a very special series for us.

When we introduced the first volume at the 2013 Bologna Book Fair, we wouldn't have dared to imagine that 10 years later, we'd be celebrating over 8 million copies sold and licensing sales into more than 25 languages.

After 12 volumes, here's how things stand: 16 schoolchildren have already received magical talking animals. But the narrative potential of this world has not been exhausted, not by a long shot: the stories take place mostly in school; it's a process of child and animal getting to know each other. But what happens after that? What is it like, living day-in, day-out with such an animal?

INTERVIEW WITH MARGIT AUER

"The School of Magical Animals" started out "small" and was not originally conceived to grow to so many volumes. But it became clear to everyone: these aren't "normal" readers, they're real fans – they want more! How do you manage to keep coming up with new ideas? Where do you get your inspiration?

Like Miss Cornfield, I go through life with my eyes open! When I'm out jogging and see a girl taking her dog for a walk, I eavesdrop. I want to find out what the two of them are talking about.

Can you already tell us a little something about the much-anticipated 13th volume that's coming out in October?

There's music in the air – and a boy gets a magical animal...

The series has been licensed into more than 25 languages. That's really something, even for us in the foreign licensing department. For you, too?

I am touched to think that children in China, Russia or Spain read my books before going to sleep at night. That makes me happier than a top ranking on the bestseller list.

We can't wait to release the 13th volume, which will be due in November 2022!

Besides the main series, “The School of Magical Animals” has two spin-offs: “Holidays at Last” and “Investigates.” The “Holidays” books are vacation page-turners that we publish punctually in early summer. “Investigates,” on the other hand, is a beginning-reader series – for all those who can’t wait to start reading the adventures about the world’s most popular school, and for publishers wanting to win over readers for the main series as early as they can.

Time for a thorough spring cleaning in the magical pet store! While Murphy the polar bear vacuums, Mr. Morrison is getting all dressed up. He wants to go to the opera with Miss Cornfield.

The Magic Flute is being performed. But – oh, no! – the tickets are gone! Who’s the thief? Murphy and the magical animals investigate...

Volume # 4 for first readers:
The Flute Fiasco

NEW
IN SPRING 2022!

Volume # 7 for the summer break:
Max & Muriel

Each volume contains a new adventure that takes place during the holidays and spotlights a different child with its magical animal. The first chapter always takes place in school on the last day before vacation. At the close of school, Miss Cornfield, the classroom teacher, hands every child an envelope containing a puzzle. The solution is closely connected with the holiday adventure or with something the children will have learned on their summer vacation.

A new twist on the trendy topic of dinosaurs

- action-packed fireworks by the duo behind the successful "Starry Knights" series
- dinosaurs + big vehicles + friendship: a unique mixture

The story takes its readers to the colony DinoRox on the supercontinent Pangäa, where the three friends Remo, Patty, and Tobi hope to find Patty's father, who has disappeared.

A thrilling adventure set in the future, with completely untamed nature and plenty of real dinosaurs and big machines.

Willow is Ylvi's dream horse. No wonder, then, that Ylvi's world starts to fall apart when Willow's owner suddenly shows up and small fires start being set around Birch Moor. Ylvi and her friends do everything they can to keep Willow on the Hollerhof farm and catch the firebug.

The finale of the beloved series about horses, teenagers, and first love offers real suspense and great emotion.

A humorous adventure series about big wishes

by the author of the hit series "The Most (Un)Boring School in the World" with over 350,000 copies sold unusual characters, lots of animals and raucous situations

Noah finds a strange book – full of (un) secret wishes. And a message: grant Malee's wish and then you'll get a wish, too! But easier said than done, because Malee wishes for a safari. But Noah doesn't live in Africa! How's he supposed to manage it without magic?

Like the author's first series, this new one is also perfect for kids weak in reading: easy sentences, short chapters and lots of pictures maintain interest. Reading becomes fun! Volume 2 will appear in September 2022.

Come along on an exciting trip into an unknown world

- great fantasy, great themes, and great depth of feeling
- beginning of a new series with a very special jungle setting
- an adventure expedition that pulls readers in: Volume 2 will appear in July '22

Coco, Chuck, Amy, Mohit, and Paul are called. They're allowed to go to Whisperworld, where they roam through the jungle alone, sleep in trees, and each day learn something new about nature and the animals around them. And where they impatiently wait to see who is the first to be chosen to protect an endangered species – as its animal whisperer.

Barbara Rose takes her readers into an enthralling primeval jungle, home of wild animals and fantastical beings, and sends her heroes on exciting adventures. And in the process, she manages to unobtrusively embed the themes of extinction and conservation into these fantastic stories.

Barbara Rose is an author of children's and YA books as well as a journalist. Before she started writing, she moderated radio shows for children and youth and thought up stories for television.

Alina Brost, born in 1996, studied communication design with a major in illustration. She is fascinated by magical worlds and is constantly on the lookout for new adventures in books of all kinds.

Vacation stories that warm the heart

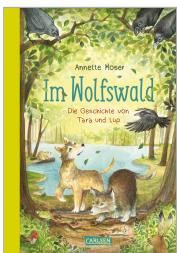

Two runaways who have found a place to stay in an old, abandoned house. Two children from the city who want to help the other two. Soon, the four of them are spending entire days of this long, hot summer together. But eventually the two runaways need a real home.

Another high-quality, warm-hearted book by Annette Moser, who tells the story of four very different children who form an unbreakable bond.

Annette Moser always dreamt of inventing her own stories, which is why she is working happily as an author now, after nursing other people's stories in her former job as an editor.

Also by Annette Moser: "In the Wolf Forest" - "A fine arc of suspense, charming protagonists, beautiful images as well as a fine, coherently formulated text." (kinderbuch-couch.de)

A romantic duology to bring you to your knees

- new adult novel about a love for a royal bad boy
- crackling with tension and heart-rending romance right up to the last page

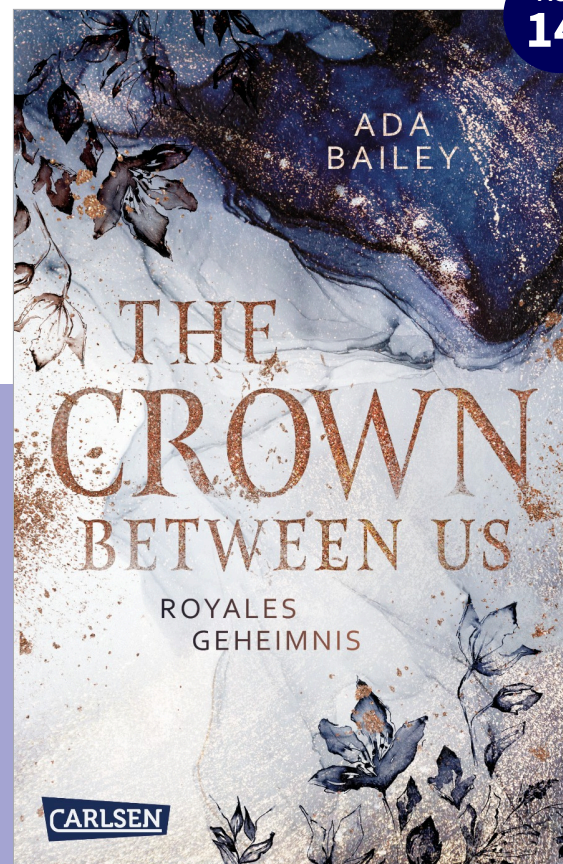

Wealth, power, luxury: Nothing could be further away from Alpha's life – until she is sent to an elite boarding school. Suddenly Alpha finds herself in the middle of intrigue, drama, and secrets. The only ray of light is the charming Aaron. But he is none other than the cousin of the heir to the throne – and a playboy to boot.

This super-networked book blogger with her own Instagram channel has written two gripping romance novels (the other one is "All the Secret Between Us") – fans of royal settings will love them!

Ever since her grandfather's death, MacKenzie, who used to love writing songs, associates music with nothing but pain. Only the process of organizing Camp Melody lets her forget her everyday for a moment. If only it weren't for Vincent, her former fellow camper with the piercing blue eyes – the man who became a star overnight with the song they wrote together back then...

Music camp meets rock star romance: This romance novel celebrates love for music and great emotion in a very special way.

Lana Rotaru's reading madness began in her early youth, which she spent hour after hour in a public library. She only takes a reading break when she is writing a new novel herself.

A race for life and love

- an epic love story in two volumes
- high-fantasy romance novel about a strong heroine and a divine destiny

To be accepted in society, Sari must run a dangerous course through the four domains of the gods, a run that will risk her life, and more. Because she loses her heart to a mighty Shadowbringer, whose help she depends on.

Dana Müller-Braun is a young author with a large fan base. Her duology, "The Run", has everything an epic story needs: surprising twists, dangerous tasks, and deep feelings!

© privat

Dana Müller-Braun was born on New Year's Eve in 1989. She has always been making up stories – at the age of 14 she began writing them down. As writing became more and more of a passion, she began to study German, history, and philosophy at university. When she's not writing she builds furniture out of old beams, plays guitar, or spends time with friends and her dog.

A romantic fantasy guaranteed to make hearts beat faster

- unique romantasy figure: a gladiatrix (female gladiator) as heroine
- the author has already sold 70,000 e-books of the book in the Carlsen imprint "Impress"

Asuka Lionera
Gladiator's Love – Marked by Fire
 450 pages
 Age: 14+
 ISBN 978-3-646-60783-3

Aeryn, a gladiatrix, must fight for her life every day in the arena. She is an enslaved Vantyr whose fire magic has been sealed and therefore has no other choice. But her irrepressible yearning for freedom leads her to devise a dangerous plan. If only it weren't for Cato, the bodyguard of an arena operator, who suddenly sets her heart aflutter.

This fantasy romance novel about a slave who fights for love and freedom has all the ingredients needed to make a real reading highlight: a complex world, one-of-a-kind characters, and plenty of passion!

Asuka Lionera was born in 1987. As a teenager, she not only began to write fan fiction for her favorite series, she also developed small role-playing games for PCs. After a few detours, she turned her passion into her profession and is now a successful author.

Beware of the secrets of the crown prince ...

- romantasy about a throne contender in hiding and a dark crown prince
- mysterious, electrifying, and mega-romantic
- the first printing of 11,000 was sold out within a few days

Kaaya has no past, no memories. Nothing but Arian, who took her in back then. But before she can tell her best friend how she really feels about him, his soul is stolen by a shadow elf. To save Arian, Kaaya travels to the realm of shadows, where she finds herself in the middle of an unending war.

Romantic, mysterious, magical: The debut novel by this well-known book blogger was eagerly anticipated by her fans and makes them hungry for more from this young author.

Five elements, five kingdoms, five demi-god rulers ...
For many years now, all Sayeh has known is the endless darkness of her prison. The hope of freedom seems to have dwindled to nothing.

But then the unexpected happens: the princess is set free – at a high price. She has sixty days to compensate for the misdeeds of her mother, the queen of the shadowlands. Sixty days to regain her divine powers and to restore shadow and night to the world of elements. For only if she is helpful to the rulers of the other kingdoms – water, earth, the winds, and fire – will she be allowed to return to her realm as ruler. An impossible undertaking. If not for a prince with eyes blue as water

Linda Winter, born in Germany in 1985, moved away from home at an early age. After a year abroad in Australia, she studied archeology and intercultural communication and worked for the United Nations before rediscovering her love for writing.

Why heartbreak is both curse and blessing – a manual to help make young adults strong

- contains many interviews with experts and room for personal thoughts
- the first heartbreak often also leaves parents feeling helpless, which is why "Love Hurts" is an indispensable gift for everyone going through this difficult phase
- written by an expert in adolescent psychology and youth culture

Advice books on the subject of heartbreak are rare, and we're happy to finally be able to publish one that is truly relatable and in-depth. In touch with her target audience, affirming and encouraging, the author tells her readers: You are not alone; you can do it – you'll come out of this crisis stronger than you ever thought possible.

A subject worth writing about and a gift that will be appreciated.

The basics for children in kindergarten and school

- the start of school means giving gifts to first-graders
- many formats, outstanding basic-level transfer of knowledge
- makes learning fun right from the start!

We've come up with three separate gift books for new schoolkids: neutral, with extra pages for writing and drawing. And, as other options, two less-extensive volumes in pink and blue for those who would rather have things "gendered."

The "Smart for School" series is full of variety and easily mastered by all children.

No boredom, no frustration – guaranteed.

Sabine Rothmund always liked to draw, in the beginning at the margin of her exercise books at school, later she switched to "proper" illustration.

- trendy topics for girls in puberty – exclusively by our best-selling author Nikki Busch
- volume 1 of this series has sold over 100,000 copies

Nikki Busch bubbles over with great ideas, is always in touch with her target group, and it's obvious that a lot of heart and soul has been put into each book. We're looking forward to more volumes – this much we can tell you now: in September a new volume entitled Be Creative will appear.

Christiane Hahn lives and works as a book designer, illustrator and painter.

Children should practice manual dexterity as soon as they're able. Along with crafting comes concentration, perseverance, and, of course, the great feeling of having made something truly by yourself.

Constanze von Kitzing's books have sold more than 80,000 copies in the last few years.

The success of previous books shows how much in demand these books are: by parents and educators. But the success also shows that kids like them and how much fun they have with them.

Children love odd questions and the answers to them – the more off-beat and humorous, the better.

Nikki Busch is a guarantee for success when it comes to the kinds of books that kids have fun learning from and make them curious about history, science, and lots more.

Our most creative friendship book!

- we've sold 30,000 copies of the preceding volume
- a book that collects childhood memories and is fun to complete

Nele Palmtag
My Friends – For Writing In and Decorating with Brush, Stamps, Glue
 96 pages • 21,6 × 25,6 cm
 Age: 3+
 ISBN 978-3-551-19125-0

An activity book as well as one that tries to convey the importance of friends to children: on the double pages is a sweet story of friendship.

Another aspect: it's probably the first book kids will have written and put together by themselves – a lovely piece of childhood. The preceding volume was strongly recommended by parents and magazines for parents.

Nele Palmtag was born in 1973, and studied design with an emphasis on fashion, and went on to study illustration. Her books are sold into many countries. Some might know her for her illustrations in "If my Moon was your Sun" by Andreas Steinhöfel.

OUR SWEETHEARTS

I particularly like children's books that are funny and exciting and a little bit sassy. That's why I'd like to recommend Maya and Marietta by Anna Lott; her storylines as well as her narrative voice are taken from everyday lives of kids. Or, as Maya would say: »It's like your heart is jumping rope.«

SABINE FRANZ

My favorites in the new line-up are the inconspicuous little LESEMAUS (reading mouse) volumes. Somewhere between fiction and non-fiction, these affordable books are true "power packages" and indispensable sources of knowledge. All children are guaranteed to find subjects that touch their lives or interest them, and that our authors and illustrators have so affectionately portrayed. Besides that, the sales of our foreign licensing partners prove: these books travel!

SYLVIA SCHUSTER

What helps in chaotic times? Orderly surroundings make people feel better! And with that in mind, Gunda Borgeest shows us in her The Big Book of Tidying Up for the Whole Family lots of tricks and tips to get kids to pick up – and explains the reason for it! Little stories about tidying up serve as rewards. I already feel a lot better ... and maybe your readers will soon feel that way, too?
