

The illustration features a central circular frame containing a portrait of a young Harry Potter with his signature black hair, round glasses, and a red and gold striped scarf. He is set against a deep red background. This central element is framed by a dark blue, ornate gothic-style border. The background of the entire poster is a vibrant, painterly scene. At the top, two owls are perched on a ledge against a starry night sky. Below them, a large, dark steam locomotive is partially visible on the left, emitting smoke. In the lower center, a smaller Harry Potter is shown holding a white owl, with a beam of light shining on them. The background is a mix of fiery orange and red clouds on the right and a misty, blue-toned forest of pointed trees on the left. A small blue bird is flying on the right side.
