The new Foreign Rights Catalogue from CARLSEN!

We are pleased to announce that we have added titles from our new publishing arm “Aladin”, which CARLSEN’s previous publisher Klaus Humann founded last year.

It’s interesting to note that various organizations and foundations sponsor translations of German literature, like the famous “Goethe Institute”. Titles that are eligible for translation funding are specially marked. Please contact CARLSEN or your current agent to discuss this further.

We’re always happy to answer any questions you may have. Have fun browsing!

With best wishes
Christiane Bartelsen, Daniela Steiner and Sylvia Schuster

The new CONNI: The new series for readers aged around 12 years old!

Conni has finally turned fifteen. And it’s about time...

"Too bad that Conni didn’t exist earlier. It would have been fun to grow up with my favorite character.”

[DAGMAR HOSSFELD]

Conni has fi nally turned fi fteen. She feels just the same as ever. But that can’t be right. Something must be different! After all, she’s spent the last fi fteen years of her life working to get to this age! Last year was really tough: at fourteen you’re still kind of a kid – at least everyone still treats you like one. At fi fteen, you’re pretty much a grown up. So something’s GOT to be different…

"Too bad that Conni didn’t exist earlier. It would have been fun to grow up with my favorite character.”

Everything is Spinning
by Rosemarie Eichinger

978-3-551-52049-4

Max wants to tackle the whole thing systematically, and he tells me there are worse things in life. I guess he’s right. But unlike Max, I don’t know how to tackle my brain tumour systematically. At least I’m not disturbed and mentally unstable – that’s Max’s privilege. It all started with a list. Things you had to do before you kicked the bucket. And suddenly it was all go, go, go. Because we wanted to do something meaningful. Even Pia joined in. Because you couldn’t look away. That’s the most important thing. More or less. At least it’s one of the most important things. Just like Max and Pia.

Mareike’s mother has disappeared. From one day to the next – simply gone. Why and where to? Mareike, her father and siblings have no idea how they should react. So everyone just carries on like nothing’s happened. But then Mareike tries to piece the story together. However, there are endless versions of every story and each one is just a possibility. Which version will Mareike decide on?
